Product Details

Summary

Made of thick cotton loop pile this sleeve covers the whole of the forearm. Its thickness enables it to be used in low to moderate heat situations. It is therefore excellent for baking or manufacturing where there is moderate burn risk. The sleeve has a knit wrist at one end and elastic at the other end to keep the sleeve high above the elbow. Fully reversible and ambidextrous. These sleeves are also used to protect workers in timber yards or working with fibreglass where it is possible to scratch or injure the forearm. The beauty of these sleeves is that being 100% cotton, they breathe, absorb sweat and are washable.
