Product Details

Needing a reliable leather welding glove? Then our Armour Leather Blue Welding Glove may be the right fit for you.

The glove features a one-piece leather back with cotton lining for comfort and welded seams. It also has a full double layer of leather on the palm and thumb for added protection and a double layer knuckle bar on the back.

This is a step up from our standard Red Welder, when extra protection and comfort are required. If you're after something especially strong, then it's hard to beat the Blue Welding Glove.

It is suitable for welding, construction, engineering and foundry work.
