Product Details

Our lightweight and durable nylon gloves are comfortable to wear and easy to look after. They are suitable for a variety of different tasks, including use in the food or stainless-steel industry and most inspection tasks.

While polycotton gloves can leave lint, increasing the risk of contamination, our nylon gloves leave no marks. This makes them the more practical option for many workplaces.

Nylon gloves will also provide a tighter fit (without being too tight), meaning they feel more comfortable than other alternatives. They are easy to wash and fully reversible, so you can get maximum value out of these gloves.

Features and Benefits

- Lightweight, durable nylon gloves
- No lint, hence no marks or contamination
- Tighter fit enabling a better "feel"
- Easier to wash and are fully reversible.
- Suitable for use in food or stainless steel industry and for all inspection type tasks
